It is understood that both trains were making good time for the siding five miles west of Dotsora where they were to pass when they collided. Failure on the part of the engineer of the passenger train to read the time of his watch is said to be responsible for the accident.

ELECTRIC MARVELS DISPLAYED AT SHOW

At Fourth Annual Show all Kinds of Electrical Devices Will be Demonstrated.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 16.—The fourth annual Electrical Show opened in the Coliseum today and will continue for two weeks. After visiting the mammoth exhibition one is almost inclined to disbelieve the words of the famous Edison that the electrical industry is still in its infancy. The elaborately and varied displays not only illustrate the progress made by electric light, heat and power during the past twenty-five years but also show many wonderful devices and inventions of recent date with which the general public is little acquainted.
Electrical cooking devices form one of the most unique features of the exhibition. Practical demonstrations show how the housewife can get up in the morning and by the mere pushing of a few buttons have breakfast ready within eight minutes. Other interesting exhibits are of electric heating apparatus, laundry machinery, sanitary devices and cleaners, and numerous other household necessities.
The show, however, is not all novelty. Much more working machinery is displayed than at the previous shows, illustrating the countless uses of the electric motor in the home, the factory, the store and for transportation on land and sea.

LESSONS FOUND IN STATE VOTE

INTERESTING PHASES OF THE PRIMARY ELECTION LAW.

BECK MAKES HIS REPORT

Commissioner of Labor Makes Up Tables From Results of the Total Number of Voters.

Commissioner of Labor Joseph D. Beck has compiled from the returns of the September primary election, statistics of interest to all who are students of the economic and political questions involved. For instance, in a discussion of the extent to which the people go to the primary, he points out that at the last September gathering of the electors the primary vote for all candidates for governor was 45.91 per cent of the nominal November election vote, but for each party the percentage was as follows: Democrat, 23.8; prohibition, 16.6; republican, 65.4, and social democrat, 14.28. It is probable that 47,688 persons belonging to other parties went into the republican primary. If we assume that primary going tendencies are as strong with one political faith as another, this result is obtained by noting the actual republican primary vote and then comparing that with what the primary vote would have been in that party if the same per cent of actual voters in that party had gone to the primary as was true of the state as a whole.
Senatorial Vote.
Mr. Beck shows that the total vote cast at the primary for the republican candidates for United States senator was divided as follows:
H. A. Cook, 26.15 per cent.
F. E. McGovern, 23.31 per cent.
Wm. H. Hutton, 19.44 per cent.
Isaac Stephens, 11.07 per cent.
The democratic senatorial candidates received 66.53 per cent of the party vote, the social democrat 99.43 of the party vote and the prohibitionists all of the party vote.
More About Majorities.
In the republican primary for county officers in 71 counties, 538 candidates were nominated out of a possible 658. This shows that in 32 cases the republican party failed to nominate a candidate. There were 246 contests in which two or more candidates sought nomination. The largest number of candidates for one office was eight in the office of Polk county, and the smallest received 29.25 per cent of the primary vote.
Of the 246 contests in the republican primary, the nominees failed to secure a majority vote in 101 cases or 41 per cent of all contests. Of all the nominations the candidate failed to secure a majority vote in 101 out of 536, or 18.8 per cent of all nominations.
The democratic party nominated 408 candidates out of a possible 538, and of these 408 nominations there were only 38 cases in which contests between two or more candidates developed. In the 100 assembly districts, 15 contests between two or more candidates arose and in all cases the nominee received a majority vote.
At the republican primary for the assembly, 56 contests out of 100 districts occurred and of the 39 contests the nominee failed to receive a majority vote in 17 cases.
The primary returns show no contests in the democratic party for the election of members of the senate in the 17 districts in which elections were held this year. The republican returns show more contests and in all nine the nominee received a majority vote.
Influence of Alphabet.
At the republican primary, there were 218 contests for county officers omitting the offices of coroner and surveyor because of the lack of interest shown in their election, even when there were more than one candidate in the field.
A tabulation shows that in ninety-one instances out of 248 the first candidate on the primary ballot won; in 128 instances other candidates won and in one instance there was a tie vote. Only where there were two rival candidates, the first man on the ballot seemed to have an advantage over the other and was elected in 62 out of 127 cases. In the only three cases where the second man had the advantage in three cases.
The democratic primary did not offer enough contests so that a study of the winning candidates could be made.
Independent Candidates.
At the regular November election there were independent candidates for twenty-eight offices. Almost all of the independent candidates were men who had been defeated at the primary when there were candidates on the republican ticket. In all cases except one they were defeated a second time at the regular election and usually the second defeat was a decisive, overwhelming one. The one independent candidate who was elected was not a candidate at the primary but came out after the primary election.

EXERCISES HELD IN POE'S MEMORY

AT UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA WHICH POET ATTENDED S THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY

Of His Birth—Exercises Will Last For a Week, Closing With Presentation of Memorial.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Charlottesville, Va., Jan. 16.—Today witnessed the inauguration of a week of notable exercises to be held at the university of Virginia in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Edgar Allan Poe, who was a student at the university for one full session, that of 1826. During the week the room that was occupied by Poe in his student days, No. 13, West Range, which is designated by a little bronze tablet as "the small home of a great poet," will be the Mecca for literary pilgrims from all parts of the country. In this room have been placed all of the memorabilia of Poe available at the university, together with a number of others that have been borrowed for the occasion.
The program arranged for the week's celebration is replete with interesting features. This evening there will be exercises by the Jefferson Literary Society, of which Poe was a member. The anniversary sermon tomorrow evening will be preached by the Rev. W. A. Durr, D. D., of Lynchburg.
Monday the Raven Society, the undergraduate honor society of the university of Virginia, named for the most celebrated of Poe's poems, will have charge of the local celebration. The exercises will occur recitations, a musical rendition of some of Poe's poems, an organ interpretation of "The Raven" and a memorial address.
Tuesday will be the most important day of the celebration. The exercises, which will be held at 11 o'clock in Madison Hall, will be presided over by Dr. Charles W. Kent, of the chair of English Literature. There will be an address in English by Professor George Edward, of Northwestern University, on "Poe and German Literature," and an address in French by Dr. Alice Fortier, of Tulane University, on "Poe's Influence on French Literature."
Tuesday evening President Alderman of the University, will speak on "The Nationalism of Poe," and Dr. Charles Alphonso Smith, of the University of North Carolina, will tell of "Poe's Influence on Southern Literature."

The exercises will close with the formal presentation of Poe's memorial medals to those who by their labors have materially aided to the fixing or furthering of Poe's reputation as a man of letters. A number of distinguished writers and scholars from all sections of the country have accepted invitations to attend the celebration.

Poe came to the University of Virginia in 1826 after having completed his preliminary education at the Manor House school in London, England, where he had been sent by his adopted father, John Allan, a business man of Richmond. During the brief period he spent at the university he attracted attention among the students by his athletic prowess and his gift of narration. The records show that he was a free user of the books in the university library and he distinguished himself by marked proficiency in Latin and French and in Italian translation. But for the ordinary routine of study he seemed to have little liking and he was frequently absent from the class recitations. His irregularities finally led to a clash with the faculty and the result was what Poe withdrew from the university at the end of the term.
After leaving the university Poe accepted a place in an adopted father's counting room in Richmond, but soon tiring of this occupation he made his way to Boston and there brought out his earliest volume of poems. In 1827 he enlisted in the United States army and served two years as a soldier. Then an appointment was secured for him at the West Point military academy, but his neglect of duty led to his discharge at the end of six months.
He had been writing verse in the meantime and the success of his second book of "poems" published in New York in 1831, helped to turn him in the direction of literature for a living. For several years he lived in Baltimore and subsequently New York and Philadelphia were the scenes of his labors. His most famous compositions, from "Blossoms" to "The Raven," "The Bells" and "Ulalume," were produced between 1827 and 1845. Four years later, after the death of his wife, he went to Richmond, drifted to Baltimore and finally died in a Baltimore hospital in 1849.

The exercises will close with the formal presentation of Poe's memorial medals to those who by their labors have materially aided to the fixing or furthering of Poe's reputation as a man of letters. Awarding the plaintiff $500 damages the jury in the Collot-Veivogger damage case also gave the defendant a $1000 sum, and a question now arises as to taxing costs in the case which was an appeal. LAST YEAR WAS BUSY ONE FOR THE WOODMEN

REPORT FOR 1908 SHOWS NEARLY A MILLION MEMBERS.

MANY ADOPTIONS ARE MADE

Insurance in Effect at End of the Year
Was Over a Billion and a Half Dollars.

Janesville members of the Modern Woodmen will be interested in the membership statement just issued by the head clerk, covering the months
of November and December, 1908, which shows that at the close of the year 1908 the society had 960,299 beneficial members in good standing, representing an insurance in force of $1, 515,313,000. In addition, there were 35,356 social members in good standing and 22,500 certificates outstanding on which adoptions had not yet been reported, making the grand total membership at the close of the year 1,029,155.

The adoptions during the two months amounted to 18,457, representing an insurance of $25,110,000, and there were 11,185 readoptions of members in suspension with insurance in force of $14,274,000. The increase in certificate amounts, due to old members changing the amounts of their benefit certificates, represented $1,147,600 insurance.

There was a net gain in beneficial members during the two months of 15,408, and in insurance in force of $21,508,000.

13,012 Camps in Good Standing.

At the close of the year 1908 there were 13,012 camps in good standing, 233 of which were chartered during the last two months of the year.

There were 25,068 benefit certificates issued during the two months, 4,135 in new camps and 21,533 in old camps.

Tennessee leads the states in the number of new camps chartered during the two months, having to its credit 34 new camps. Arkansas comes second with 20 new camps to its credit; Texas third, with 25; Kentucky, fourth, fifth 20, and North Carolina, fifth, with 14 new camps.

Illinois leads in number of benefit certificates issued during the two months, with 5,148 to its credit. Missouri comes next with 1,905; Kansas with 1,422; Iowa, with 1,367; and Texas with 1,328.

Has Good Balance.

The statements of Head Clerk C.
W. Hawes, submitted to the board of auditors of the society, now in session at the head office checking the books and accounts of the head clerk and head auditor gives some interesting summaries of the business of the Modern Woodmen society for the final six months of 1908.

In the benefit fund on July 1,
1908, there was a balance of $3,510, 836.30, and the receipts in assessments for the six months, July 1-December 31, inclusive, totaled $4,529, 911.25. The interest receipts aggregated $16,951.23, making the total available in the benefit fund, $7,888, 628.95.

During the six months' period, the society disbursed $1,251,461.20 in payment of death claims, and transferred from the general fund to the benefit fund, accounting to members chargeable to benefit fund, but paid out of the general fund, $2,329.95, these items
representing a total of $6,260,783.10,
and leaving a cash balance in the benefit fund on Dec. 31, 1908, of $1, 627,915.85.

On July 1, 1908, there was a balance in the society's general fund of $135,113.92, and the receipts to that fund during the six months period,
from all sources, totaled $293,105.70,
making a total of $428,219.62.

The disbursements on all accounts
from the general fund totaled $673, 058.88, leaving a balance on Dec. 31, 1908, of $355,255.74. The big items of expense chargeable to the general
fund during the six months period
covered by the statement are shown to have been, expense of field work, $176,672.78; head camp meeting, including state camps, $105,428.85;
publication of official paper, $89,822.36;
and head clerk hire, $61,303.70.

PYTHIANS AND LADIES

AT MERRY BANQUET

Entertainment Given by Pythian Sisters in Honor of Founding of Order Very Enjoyable.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Janesville, Jan. 15.—The banquet which the Pythian Sisters tendered the Knights of Pythias and their ladies last evening, in honor of the founding of the local organization was a very pleasant affair. Mr. and Mrs.
H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Max
Fisher, Mrs. J. C. Lee, Mrs. George
Wolfe, and Dr. and Mrs. C. M.
Smith Jr., were the reception committee. Covers were laid for one hundred and thirty-five and at seven o'clock the guests were seated at long festal boards which had been artistically decorated with roses and carnations in red, yellow and blue,
the colors of the order. An impressive feature of the banquet was the singing of the Dextera by the entire assembly. Just before the supper was served. The singing was led by the Knott and Hatch orchestra. The orchestra also played some excellent music and Mr. Hatch sang some numbers during the evening. The address of welcome was given by Mrs.
C. C. Colony, most excellent chief of the Pythian Sisters, and R. M. Richmond gave the response. Dr. C. M.
Smith then called on John Hendricks,
Jr., who was the most recent addition to the Pythian ranks, and he responded with a most entertaining talk. There were about one hundred people present at the dancing party,
which followed in the Baker hall.

A cottage prayer meeting will be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chas. Johnson.

Harley Smith, who has been quite sick with influenza this week, is some-better and was able to sit up a short time yesterday.

James Stinson has been spending a few days of this week in Beloitville, John Douglas, who has been visiting local relatives, has returned to his home in New Berlin, Ill. He was accompanied by Mrs. Jane Kelly, who goes for a visit of several weeks.

Rev. T. W. North went to Milton Junction yesterday to attend the farmers' convention. From there he went to Edgerton for a short visit to his father and will be in Janesville today
to attend the anti-saloon convention.

Burdette Smiley, a piano-tuner of Madison, is here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Jorgensen of Oregon and Mrs. M. A. McCoy of Janesville were here to attend the K. P.
party and to visit Mrs. McCoy's daughter, Mrs. Ralph Smith.

Mrs. Arthur Woodcock and son, Zebie, of Alton are guests of relatives
here for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Booth came down from Oregon to attend the banquet
last evening.

Charles Winzor will go to Janesville this evening to be present at a meeting of Epworth League workers.

ANTI-SALOONISTS'

CLOSING SESSION

FATHER WARD OF BELOIT PRIN-CIPAL SPEAKER OF EVENING.

GATHERING WAS INTERESTING

Make the Punishment Fit The Crime Appears to be the Slogan of Their Doctrine.

That the laws against drunkenness
in this state are literally a farce, and that every man arrested for inebri-ation should be immediately sent to the streets and public squares of his town with a ball and chain on his leg, was the radical contention of Father M.
J. Ward last evening at the third and closing session of the Rock County
Anti-Saloon convention in Janesville City Hall.

Father Ward, who was here from Beloit, is a noted prohibition orator, he having been a speaker in many parts of Dixie Land that have now gone dry.

"I will explain to you just how much if a farce the laws of this state are,"
he said. "A man is found inebriated in the streets. He is brought before a judge and sentenced to hard labor for thirty days. Taken out to the rock pile, the first thing the officer does is to give him a drink to brace him up for work. The hours he is not at work he is allowed to spend in playing cards and smoking, so when his term has expired he is in prime condition to go on another spree."

"Now, a man who is a public scoundrel on the streets should, in all harmony, be obliged to make public reparation, when arrested for this scoundrel, to the community. The most just punishment would be to fasten on a ball and chain on his leg and compel him to walk the streets and public squares of the town which he has disgraced."

During the forenoon session, discussion had been on the fact that brewers were presenting arguments showing that a no-saloon law would cut off
a colossal tax income from the exchequer of government, and Father Ward had, by the time of the convention, shown the audience, sometimes by a host of statistics disproportioning these claims. In offering these,
he felt himself safe in pronouncing
that, were it not for the liquor traffic,
we should not need so large an exchequer, nor one-half as large.

"For instance," he said, "there are the insane asylums of this country.
Thirty millions of their total number of inmates are declared by specialists to have been made lunatics as a result of the Demon Alcohol. Alcohol, the fruitful mother of poverty, criminality and insanity. In Wisconsin I have now spent thirty-six years in attempts to enlighten the citizens upon this paramount question. But in the name of God! what benefits has it seemed to result in? There still seem to exist the same number of people who have any number of reasons to fall back upon, when confronted by a temperance argument. Some have different arguments, than others—individual reason for taking his glass, and in my recollecting those, you will find that they have positively lost all possible reason unlearned. There is the man who drinks upon arising in the morning, as an 'eye-opener'; there is the next man, who takes whiskey
as an appetizer just before breakfast;
there is he who is convivial, for sociability's sake, you see; then there is he who must have a glass of wine with his dinner that he may aid digestion, and finally, there is the old tip-per who insists upon a 'night-cap.'"

"Besides all these occasions, none of which are alighted by some misuse of men, there are those who must drink because of the 'troubling' habit.
This vicious system of 'treating' alcoholics is a phase of alcohol slavery that is never seen in any country except America. I have never known it to exist in Mexico, nor France, nor Germany, nor Spain, nor Italy. In Germany, beer-quaffers sit in gardens at tables and sip the amber fluid, but they never 'treat' hence they do not get themselves and their companions all stupidly drunk. There is just as much camaraderie and sentiment there too. And if I couldn't with a man's friendship except by buying him alcohol, I wouldn't value that friendship."

"I have now a statement to make to you which is based on facts. It is that eighty per cent of the saloons
in the state of Wisconsin are owned solely by the big breweries that manufacture the beer. So you see the saloon-keeper is no target for us. And yet I have never known one who had any respect for the law. Yes, I did know just one—he runs a saloon in Dodge county, and never sells liquor to a drunken customer."

"These saloon-keepers, and also all of us taxpayers, are paying tribute—
literally paying tribute to the Schlitz, the Pabst, the Heile, the Schlitz, the Blatz, the Jones, the Gettelmans, the Anheusers and the Lindbergs.
We American citizens are their servants."

"They are ravenous beasts devouring the substance of our communities throughout the length and breadth of the land. They are terrible and roaring lions. Why can't we live without being obliged to feed their mouths?
When we ask them not to sell to minors, they fight us tooth and nail—
where we demand a Sunday closing law, they become discomfited. I prophesied that the son of a prostitute would come when we shall rise in our might and curse this hydra-headed monster that is rending us into shreds."

"We have been effectual in the South. I feel proud of my efforts there, but they ever so humble. And in the border state, Kentucky, there are 94 out of 103 counties that have 'gone dry.' Into a drug store in one of these counties came a man simulating to be all bent up with neuralgia, rheumatism and pleurisy—all three at once. He came in that way so as to have an excuse to buy some whiskey.
But the druggist was wise. He said,
'Oh, that's stale, sir. You don't fool me THAT way.'"

"Though the city of Louisville reeks
with distilleries, it has a Sunday closing law. And that's more than can be said for Racine, or Fond du Lac, or Oshkosh, or Milwaukee. In Louisville a man riding near the state-line

ANIMALS AND FEED

DESTROYED IN BARN

Horses and Cattle Were Suffocated
When Structure Burned—Other
Monroe Items.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monroe, Wis., Jan. 16.—A barn filled with hay and corn fodder belonging to Robert R. Keen, who lives just west of this city, was destroyed by fire which started at 11 o'clock
Thursday night and burned all day Friday. Six head of horses and seven of cattle were burned in the barn from which nothing was saved. The fire is supposed to have been set by a tramp while spending the night in the hay loft. A neighbor was first to see the smoke and saw Mr. Keen and the two made desperate efforts to rescue some of the stock but to no avail as most of the animals were suffocated by the time they were reached. A crib full of corn was saved by the fire department which used hooks to pull the building apart. The loss is 2,600 with $800 insurance.

The West Wisconsin Methodist conference will be held in Monroe in September and the trustees of the local church have begun extensive improvements upon the office. The conference, as the dates are now fixed,
would come in the same week as the Green county fair but it is hoped by the local trustees that the dates may be changed at the next meeting of the bishops of the conference in May.
The fair dates are Sept. 8 to 11. The church is to be re-paired and repainted, and new carpets will be placed on the floors. Other repairs will be made bringing the total cost of the improvement up to $2,000.

Thomas Rankin, whose residence
in Lake Bluff, a suburb of Chicago, was robbed Thursday afternoon by two daylight burglars, was the promoter of the gas plant here, it being the first one of its kind ever constructed in the United States. Mrs. William Rankin, daughter-in-law of Thomas Rankin, was the only person at home
when two thieves rang the doorbell and were admitted by Mrs. Rankin when they said they were gas men.
They immediately forced her to take chloral, which rendered her unconscious. While they were ransacking the upstairs, the woman regained her senses and crawled to a neighbor's house. The burglars escaped with $15 in money and a few pieces of jewelry. A posse was formed and gave chase.

Colin W. Wright, one of the leading attorneys of this city, is critically ill at his home in this city and relatives have been sent for. His brother, Samuel Wright, of Milwaukee, arrived here last night. Mr. Wright has been confined to his bed since the day he suffered from a stroke. He has suffered a severe chill. He has been unable to regain his strength and seems to grow weaker. His relatives and many friends are greatly alarmed.

Have you in rambling in the woods over stepped upon a fallen tree and had it cave in with you because its heart was eaten out with decay? It was hollow.

Just so will it be with your teeth if you neglect them.

My patients are continually saying to me,

My teeth decay so rapidly.

Why, it was only last week that I first noticed any trouble with them.

The truth was

This decay had been going on for years until the tooth was hollow and a week inside its enamel shell.

Had a Dentist been consulted regularly twice each year the trouble would have been discovered and remedied before damage was so great.

COUNTY NOW HAS BUT 1 DISTRICT

TWO SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT DISTRICTS CONSOLIDATED.

CHANGE MADE YESTERDAY

At Meeting of County Board of Supervisors—Grant Was Allowed

His Office.

Last evening at six-thirty the business of the County Board of Supervisors was finished and the board adjourned. The meeting was kept open until half-past six in order that a session might not have to be held today.

One of the most important things done by the board in the meeting yesterday afternoon was the adoption of a resolution presented by Supervisor S. S. Jones consolidating the two school districts into one. The resolution is as follows:

"It is moved by Supervisor Jones that in the best interests of Rock county, the two school superintendent districts be consolidated into one and that the county board be authorized to make such changes as may be necessary to carry out the intent of this resolution."

In place of the two superintendents there shall be one.

The term of the one superintendent will not begin until the terms of the present incumbents expire, which is in July. In the resolution, the salary of the superintendent is fixed at $1,600 a year, payable monthly, the superintendent paying for the holding of diploma examinations, $250 being allowed him for traveling expenses and $200 for printing and stationery, and deputy shall also be appointed to receive for his services $300. The resolution was divided and voted on by sections and then was voted on by the board. On motion of Supervisor Hopkins to make the salary of the superintendent of schools $1,800, the board passed a resolution to make it that.

The last resolution introduced was that of Supervisor Moore for legal services be allowed. Before passing on this the board asked for the opinion of the District Committee.

The committee on the subject of a proposed road to be accepted, Mr. Woodruff read the report of the committee and it was adopted and filed and then Mr. Skavlen made a verbal report as to the roads in the town of Clinton, Turtle, Magnolia, Fulton, Beloit, Newark, Union, Bradford, Harmony and Center. In part it is as follows. All parts of highways improved by County aid were first graded and prepared for such improvement on plans approved by me and at the cost of the town where such improvement was made. Iron, stone or cement curbs were required in the place of the old wooden structures, but few of the improved roads are as yet entirely completed but the balance left of the funds appropriated will in most cases be sufficient to complete the same, when weather conditions permit the resumption of the work.

The following towns have applied for and received County aid for road improvement for the year 1908:

Town of Harmony—Town Tax, $700; County aid, $700; total, $1,400.

Town of Janesville—Tax levied by town, $625; county aid, $625; total, $1,250.

Town of Center—Tax levied by town, $900; County aid, $900; total, $1,800.

Town of Magnolia—Tax levied by town, $625; county aid, $625; total, $1,250.

Town of Union—Tax levied by town, $700; County aid, $700; total, $1,400.

Town of Fulton—Tax levied by town, $800; by county aid, $800; total, $1,600.

Milton Town—Tax levied by town, $900; County aid, $900; total, $1,800.

Town of Clinton—Tax levied by town, $1,000; county aid, $1,000; making a total of $2,000.

Town of Turtle—Tax levied by town, $1,250.91; County aid, $1,250.91; total, $2,501.82.

Town of Beloit—Tax levied by town, $1,000; County aid, $1,000; total, $2,000.

Town of Newark—Tax levied by town, $1,000; county aid, $1,000; total, $2,000.

Plymouth Township—Tax levied by town, $1,000; county aid, $1,000; total, $2,000.

Town of Bradford—Tax levied by town, $1,000; County aid, $1,000; total, $2,000.

Town of Johnson—By Town Tax, $1,000; County aid, $1,000; total, $2,000.

Sup. Gatto moved to amend Mr. Jones' motion, that the highway in the town of Clinton be accepted, to read that the motion should include all the highways mentioned. The amendment was carried.

The action of the board deciding that the court reporter was not entitled to an office in the court house because he was not a county officer, was reversed yesterday.

After hearing Mr. Grant, who addressed the board, the question was referred to the building committee to get the opinion of the district attorney. District Atty. Fisher filed an opinion that the law made the court reporter an officer of the Rock county court; that his records were public records of the county, and that he was unquestionably entitled to have an office in the court house in which to keep his records and work upon them, and that an office was furnished him in other counties.

Sup. Hopkins, chairman of the building committee, then offered a resolution to the effect that the court reporter was entitled to have an office in the court house, and that he continue to use the room he had been occupying, and the county board adopted the resolution unanimously.

Other business taken up was a resolution introduced by Sup. Richardson which the board adopted, that the judges of the municipal courts be requested not to send habitual drunkards to the county house to be under the county's care but to send them to the jail. The district attorney was instructed to defend the county in the suit brought by ex-Sheriff Fisher to secure money for fees not allowed to him, by a resolution passed by the board.

THOMAS MOTOR CAR WILL SOON BE READY

Machine Will be Finished For Chicago Automobile Exposition—Will Try Engine.

Only a short time before the Automobile Show in Chicago is opened, will the exhibition car of the Owen Thomas Motor Car company be put all together. The engine and framework will be put on in a short time for experimenting with and trying the engine and the gears, but the woodwork will not be put on until the last thing as it is desired that this be as immaculate and nice as is possible when it is exhibited. The cylinders and parts of the engine are ready and it is expected that the engine will be running by the middle of next week, but all trials are to be private and only for the members of the firm. The cylinders are now ready. The chassis have been put together. The wheels have the same kind of ball-bearings as that in the best of machines so that with wheels, shafts and transmission gears, there is but little friction. The body of the machine is made of a stamping which is turned out at a small cost. The body of the machine is being painted.

The castings for the car which will be made for Geo. S. Parker have been ordered but the work on it here will not be done until after the auto show. It is expected by the company that by that time they will have determined how best to go about the construction of the car and will be able to turn it out in a very short time.

COMMUNICATION OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

Gazette Receives Communication Relating to Important Ruling of Railway Commission.

In the following communication from H. L. Maxfield, containing a copy of a letter he has mailed to the Janesville Water Company, an interesting situation is brought to the attention of the citizens. The question of the law is not to be considered beyond the citations made by Mr. Maxfield in his communication. The communication is as follows:

To the Editor: In view of the fact that the Janesville Water Co. is endeavoring to compel the installation of water meters at the expense of the water consumers of the City of Janesville, notwithstanding the decision of the Railroad Commission in the In re Public Utility Case, as applied to water companies, in which they held that it was the duty of the water company to install all meters at their expense, as it was part of the utility, for their accommodation, and not for the accommodation of the water consumers, thus relieving the consumer from the expense of the installation of water meters.

Under date of Jan. 14, 1909, I mailed the following communication to the Janesville Water Company:

Janesville, Wis., Jan. 14, 1909.

Janesville Water Co.,
Janesville, Wis.

Gentlemen: I wish to call your attention to Sec. 1797-98 of the Public Utility law, and the decision of the Railroad Commission in the investigation of the Janesville Water Co., in which it was held that no utility could compel a consumer to acquire by lease or purchase a meter, and whether the plant is a private or municipal one is immaterial. On complaint of a large number of your consumers I am informed that you are compelling the installation of meters at the expense of the consumer which is a violation of said Sec. 1797-98.

I trust that you will comply with this law.

Respectfully,
H. L. MAXFIELD.

I also wish to call the attention of the water consumers of the City of Janesville to this law and the decision of the Railroad Commission, which relieves them of the expense of installing water meters.

Respectfully,
H. L. MAXFIELD.

LIBERTY BELL MAY COME BY THIS CITY

Efforts Being Made to Have Famous Relic Taken to Portland Exposition.

Janesville residents may have an opportunity of gazing upon the famous Liberty Bell some time this next summer. An effort is being made to take this famous relic of the revolutionary days, the first to announce the thirteen colonies were free and independent. The authorities of the Portland exposition are now trying to have the Philadelphians custodial to have the bell sent west and it is possible it will be taken. It would travel on a special train guarded by special policemen and would stop in the larger cities where the relic might be viewed. Janesville being on the direct route west plans might be made to have a stop made here.

One ton of Rock county turkeys were shipped this morning by Ed Bingham to the Waldorf Hotel, New York. One hundred and fifty-seven big plump birds that averaged over sixteen pounds each will go to grace the tables of New York's biggest hotel. In all, Mr. Bingham has shipped over four tons of these celebrated Wisconsin fowls to New York since early last fall. He also furnishes the hotel with a hundred dozen of eggs every day of the year. These eggs are gathered from all parts of the state, wherever they can be obtained as strictly fresh as the roost all the time in the Chicago market, but the strictly fresh direct to New York.

SNOW COVERED CITY WITH WHITE BLANKET

However Cold Wave Did Not Materialize, Although It Was Advertised.

Commencing at about half after five last evening a clinging, feathery and powdered whitely down upon a chill, hard surface, constituted itself into drifts along the walks, and by eight o'clock this morning most of the residents and shopkeepers of the city had acquired hunched backs from excessive plying of the snow shovel, and every second man encountered might have been mistaken for Neb and the Third.

Although there had been gleams of icy formations on the sidewalks several days before the snowfall began, the temperature was not very low nor is it now. Weather Prophet C. Mead opines that this snowy spell is not related in any way to a change in temperature.

"Our cold wave of 20 below zero has vanished and may not reappear," says Mr. Mead. "I do not expect any severe cold wave to follow this snow. A secondary storm wave of this series is due either Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, of next week, and we may expect sleighing."

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which were remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach.
Take the above recommendation "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

INTO THE PRIMITIVE

BY ROBERT AMES BENNETT
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

"Sifon!" shouted Blake, whirling about.

The cloud of smoke beyond the cliff end was now rolling up more to the left. He dashed away towards the north edge of the cliff as though he intended to leap off into space. The girl ran after him as fast as she could over the loose stones. Before she had covered half the distance she saw him halt on the very brink of the cliff and begin to wave and shout like a madman. A few steps farther on she caught sight of the steamer. It was lying close in, only a little way off the north point of the headland.

Even as she saw the vessel, its stern responded to Blake's wild gestures with a series of joyous answers. There could be no mistake. He had been seen. Already they were letting go anchor, and there was a little crowd of men gathering about one of the boats. Blake turned and started on a run for the cliff. But Miss Leslie darted before him, compelling him to halt.

"Wait!" she cried, her eyes sparkling with happy tears. "Tom, it's come now. You needn't—"

"Let me go! I'm going to meet them. I want to—"

But she put her hands upon his shoulders.

"Tom!" she whispered, "let it be now, before any one—anything can possibly come between us! Let it be a part of our life here—here, where we want the best result."

"What!" he demanded, and he held her out at arm's length, to stare at her in frowning bewilderment. "If I'd known that, I'd—"

"You'd never have given me a chance to—to propose, to you, you dear old silly!" she cried, her eyes dancing with tender mirth. "See here!"

She turned from him, and back again, and held up a withered, crumpled flower. He looked, and saw that it was the amaryllis blossom.

"You—kept it!"

"Because—because— even then, then, down in the bottom of my heart, I had begun to realize—to know what you were like—and, of course that meant— Tom, tell me! Do you think I'm utterly shameless? Do you blame me for being the one to—to—"

"Blame you!" he cried. He paused to put a finger under her chin and raise her down-bent face. His eyes were very blue, but there was a twinkle in their depths. "Oh, yes; it was dreadful, wasn't it? But I guess I've no complaint to file just now."

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, January 16, 1869.—A brilliant occasion, probably the largest indoor gathering that ever assembled in this city was at the rink last evening to participate in and witness the masquerade. The large building was crowded in every portion of it, and the skating area was thronged with skaters representing all sorts of characters, making a truly brilliant and pleasing spectacle. There were some elegant skaters of both sexes, and many of the characters were exceedingly well taken. The committee selected to make the award of premiums must have experienced something like the same difficulty in making the award that the old Dutch did in deciding the case that came before them. Both sides had so good a case that he decided in favor of them both. It was certainly no easy matter for the committee and we think they did very well in making their award, which was as follows: Prize for best lady skater, Miss Ella Dunton, representing a flower girl. For best costume worn by lady—Miss Grace Norris, representing a flower girl. For best gentleman's costume—Martin Halverson, representing a continental officer. For the best representation of characters among the gentlemen the committee were unable to agree as between Wm. Booth as an Indian Chief and W. T. Abbott as a School-boy, and upon referring the matter to the skaters the prize was divided between them.

Painful Accident.—A little daughter of Mr. Henry Holmes, aged about six years, was run over on the Milwaukee street bridge this afternoon by the Schuyler House omnibus. The wheels of the vehicle passed over the child's legs near the ankle causing the little one intense pain. It seems that she was with her brother, and as the omnibus was crossing the bridge, ran in front of the horses and was knocked down and run over before the driver saw her.

Runaway.—The horse of Dr. Barrows made some good time from the vicinity of the Rock River from Works appropriating Franklin street as a race track. The doctor stuck to him well, but came near becoming a subject for some of his professional brethren.

MILTON JUNCTION.
Milton Junction, Jan. 16.—Mr. Thomas Bickel and Mrs. Sarah Shadel surprised their many friends by taking an early train to Rockford Thursday morning where they were quietly married. They returned on the evening train where they were met by a number of friends who escorted them to their home.

A number from here attended a card party at the home of Karl Stone near Newville Thursday night. All report an interesting time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morris entertained a few friends at their home at Clear Lake last night.

"As a man soweth so shall he reap." That is the great truth that is pictured in this great story, in scenes that are intense with action and thrilling with dramatic surprises. It grips, holds, fascinates. Two men, one strong, the other weak, and one noble woman are the leading characters and they are drawn with a sure hand. The love element is there also, sweet and uplifting.

DESCRIBES NEW HOME IN TENNESSEE

Former Gazette Correspondent From Footville Writes Interesting Letter.

Illisboro, Tenn., Jan. 11.
Dear Gazette:
My pen has been idle so long owing to the sickness and death of Mr. McDaniel and I hardly know how to begin again. I am now in Footville, Wis., I find myself in Tennessee, where we came, hoping this mild climate and pure air would help Mr. McDaniel. So many kind friends at Footville have sent loving words of remembrance in this time of trouble and sorrow. I shall never forget them.

All of you have heard how he enjoyed everything; how he seemed to be better every day; how he suddenly began to fail, and in a few hours was gone. It doesn't seem possible, now, after five weeks, that he will never come back, and the events of the last five weeks seem years ago. We did not expect him to ever be a well man, but hoped that in this fine climate he might live a few years longer.

I have not seen a Gazette for over two months, so of course I don't know much that is going on at Footville, but suppose the girls are all sorting tobacco. I have seen farmers deliver tobacco in Tullahoma, eight miles from here. Just now they seem to be talking a good deal about raising the wood, knowing one's claim that this tobacco can be raised here, but so far I have not seen a tobacco shed. One man told me that he would like some man to raise tobacco for him "on the share." I said, "You are not fixed down here to take care of tobacco." He was surprised and asked me "what I meant." I said: "You have no tobacco shed." He said he did not need one; they could hang it up around the barn and smoke-house. Here we have a man with timber can have anything he wants, but does not build a tobacco shed for himself, although he wants to raise tobacco. The man to "trade" is so strong that a shed would probably be traded off before being finished. If only more of our northern folks knew of the land lying idle that could be traded for almost anything if they only kept away from the land agents, I am sure that more poor renters would get a home here; it would be "up hill" a year or two, and then "home, sweet home."

This part of Tennessee has improved so much since we left eight years ago, that we hardly know the place. The school is one of the best now. Eight years ago there was no school house in this neighborhood and nobody seemed to want one. Now we have the finest district school house I have ever seen.

On Saturday evening, January 9th, they put a new chapel organ in the school room for the use of the school. Eight years more of progress will make this a very desirable place to live. One reason why we came back to Tennessee was to sell the farm and get something out of it, but since we have seen the improvements in school work and methods of farming and fencing, and even the old fireplaces in the houses are boarded up or torn down and stoves in use, we have all come back and don't want to sell the farm. We are still having good weather. The ground has not been frozen yet; we still pull turnips when we want to use them, and pick greens to cook when we care to. Children go to school without wraps or overcoats.

This neighborhood is mostly northern and I wish more would come. They run it all schools and everything. We want a country store and are going to have telephones next summer. News now all goes by "wireless" and seems very unsatisfactory and we want something better. I have been over to Manchester, the county seat of Coffee county, but cannot see a trace of improvement there since I first discovered that town eleven years ago. The same men hold county offices—everything just the same. We have not seen the Hastings yet but friends tell us they are doing well. Fires in the woods have been quite troublesome, the dry leaves and grass making a quick fire. The timber does not burn much; it is all hard wood. There is no pine here; only a few trees which are planted.

If this escapes the waste basket I may write again and tell my friends in Rock county how I am faring here in the sunny south. I shall always be glad to hear from them no matter where they go.

As ever your well wisher,
MRS. EUNICE E. McDANIEL.

NOVEL FEATURES PLANNED FOR FELLOWSHIP CLUB

Gather Monday Evening at 8 o'clock at the Congregational Church.

The Men's Fellowship club of the Congregational church will have its monthly meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The program of this meeting will be a novel one. The old songs, patriotic songs, campfire and dramatic songs will be sung. In some of the songs such verse will be sung by a different man and all will join in the chorus. There will be, in addition, music by an orchestra and a male quartet. After the program light refreshments will be served.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Emeline Lloyd.
The funeral of Mrs. Emeline M. Lloyd will occur tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her son, E. Ray Lloyd, 903 St. Mary's avenue. Rev. J. W. Laughlin officiating. Interment will be made at Oak Hill cemetery.

Clergymen Are Scarce.

The reluctance of men to take holy orders in the Church of England, which is so noticeable a feature at the present time, is a matter of more than ecclesiastical interest. It affects not only the existing clergy but also the laity; and not the church laity alone but the nation as a whole.—Nineteenth Century.

Polly to Be Wise.

"I'm not going to give my son a college education," observed a fellow who won't let us print his name, "because I want him to get on rapidly. I lost the first job I ever had by undertaking to correct my employer's grammar."
